

MR. AHARON LAMSKI

Mr. Aharon Lamski, son of Rabbi Yehuda Leibush – a shochet and inspector – from Gostynin, married to Mrs. Leah, daughter of Rabbi Moshe Lichtensztajn. He was a successful cereals merchant in our town. In the year 1913, he emigrated to Israel, to settle there. When the First World War broke out, Kemal Pasha issued a decree to expel all foreign citizens from Eretz Israel. Mr. Aharon Lamski and his family were forced to return to Poland.

Aharon Yosef, his wife Leah and their son Nachman died in the Kutno ghetto¹, [their son] Yaakov in Warsaw. Another son, Fishel, was killed in a train accident.

¹ TN: there is no trace of their deaths on the list of ghetto victims. So, they either died in the cemetery massacre or in the gas trucks in Chełmno.
