

After the creation of the Zionist Organization, he shared his time between his main activities and the school Am HaSefer. Together with Yechiel Arbus, they created the Artisans' Union, which was under the influence of the Zionist movement.

David Kleczewski z"l

David Kleczewski also worked to create cooperative banks to help the artisans who, with limited incomes, were always in need of money to fund their businesses.

Yitzhak KLECZEWSKI

DAVID KLECZEWSKI Z"L

David Kleczewski was the grandson of a Kock chassid, David Ampilner. However, he did not follow in the footsteps of his grandfather. He was the first to bring to Kutno the [book] "Auto-Emancipation" of [Leon] Pinsker, which caused upheaval in the minds of the chassidic yeshiva students.